Greenville-Butler County PUBLIC LIBRARY

OUR NEXT CHAPTER

Step foot into the Greenville-Butler County Public Library, and its emphasis on reaching and teaching through education, engagement and innovative programs surrounds you.

From the thousands of books that line its shelves – classics to bestsellers to everything in between – the library makes sure its constituency is well-served.

But books are not the only commodity in this progressive library. Take a look at the technology designed to keep pace with an ever-changing, technology-driven landscape.

Reflect on the many community programs for children, adults and lifelong learners.

Since 1992, when community stakeholders joined together to build a 12,000-square-foot library, the library's commitment to serving the people of Greenville and Butler County has never wavered.

OUR NEXT CHAPTER

The library continues to add, to improve and to build on its successes – all with an eye sharply focused on keeping the people at the center of everything we do.

That's our story, but it's also your story. This is your library. Together, we will write the next chapter.

With your help we will add:

- Community Room Enhancements

- Children's Room Enhancements

- Foyer Showcase

- Outdoor Plaza

- Historical Mural

- Parking & Beautification

This is our story...Together, we will write the next chapter!

Make donations payable to:
Greenville-Butler County Public Library
309 Fort Dale Road, Greenville, AL 36037
(334) 382-3216